To Whom It May Concern,

Andrew Gerber has been employee of mine for the last few years, during that time his skills in production greatly improved personally and professionally. He started with me early in his college career and every season with me since he gained a new set of skills, a way to improve our show from years past.

Andrew has played many roles in his time here, mainly he has been our broadcast director and main action camera. With his connection to Central Michigan he has been able to help greatly with the new crew members as he has worked with them in other productions. It's nice to have that helping hand where he can take them and show them the ropes here.

If you have any other questions about Andrew, please do not hesitate to get in touch with me.

Sincerely,

Trenton Elliott
